Basic Cardiac Dysrhythmia Course
Speaker: Margaret Cotter
Mondays: February 23 and March 2, 2015
(Attendance at both days is required.)
8:00AM - 5:00 PM
Noyes Conference Room
@ Helen Hayes Hospital, Route 9W, West Haverstraw, NY 10993

This introductory course will present concepts related to basic rhythm interpretation. The participant will be able to interpret selected dysrhythmia and anticipate appropriate interventions. The intent of this program is to meet the competency needs of the health care practitioners working with cardiac patients.

Upon completion of this program, the learner will be able to:
• Define the EKG wave components.
• Measure normal EKG intervals.
• Interpret sinus, atrial, nodal, ventricular dysrhythmias and conduction defects.
• Identify nursing implications for each cardiac dysrhythmia.
• Differentiate between defibrillation and cardioversion.
• Describe the uses, codes, and rhythms of the pacemaker.
• Identify correlation symptoms of each cardiac dysrhythmia to the patient’s clinical status.

This program is partially funded by the Professional Development Committee (PDC) of the State of New York Governor’s Office of Employee Relations – Workforce and Organizational Development Unit.
The target audience is nursing staff who are represented by Public Employees Federation. There is NO registration fee.

The teaching method used will be Lecture / Discussion / Question / Answer / Electronic Slides.

Please let us know if a reasonable accommodation is needed to participate in this program (e.g. wheelchair accessible room, large print material, etc.).

There are no financial, professional, or personal relationships of the planners, presenters and, faculty that could potentially bias the content of the activity.

Satisfactory completion determined by full attendance and completing an evaluation.

Attendees at this program will be eligible to earn 16 contact hours.

Helen Hayes Hospital is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the New Jersey State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.
Provider # NYP254-10/12-15

Contact Christine Kimbark to pre-register (required) or if you have further questions @ 845-786-4171